This message is from an EXTERNAL SENDER

Be cautious, particularly with links and attachments.

Josh,

If Meta believes it has a basis to move to amend its Answer, it can do so and we will respond once we see it. You have provided no basis to extend the deadline, and Plaintiffs do not agree to do so. As noted below, if Meta believes that it has good cause to amend at some point, it can seek leave of Court and we can confer about the specific bases then.

Melissa,

We can agree to file our amended answer based on the limited information we currently possess, and Gentex could then move to dismiss if it chooses, if Gentex will stipulate to extend the deadline to amend by two weeks. Please let us know today.

Thanks,
Josh

Subject: RE: Gentex v. Meta (No. 22-cv-3892) - Extend Deadline to Amend Pleadings

Counsel,

We disagree that Meta has, or will have, any basis to allege inequitable conduct. We cannot agree in the abstract to extend the Court's schedule, which Meta agreed to and has known about for months. If Meta believes that it has good cause to amend at some point, it can seek leave of Court and we can confer about the specific bases then.

Best,
Melissa

Melissa,

In view of the pending deadline, please let us know by noon Pacific time today whether Gentex will agree to extend the deadline.

Regards,
Josh

Counsel,

The primary issue is inequitable conduct in light of ongoing discovery from Mr. Foxlin (who yesterday produced thousands of pages of documents in response to a subpoena served nine months ago) and as potentially informed by the Court's rulings on claim construction.

Best,
Laura

Counsel,

Thank you for your email. So that we can provide a considered response, can you explain what matter you cannot include in your answer now, but could include in an amended answer following the Court's claim construction ruling? We cannot immediately think of anything to meet this bill; since you must have something in mind, it would be helpful if you could share it with us.

Best,
Melissa

Subject: Gentex v. Meta (No. 22-cv-3892) - Extend Deadline to Amend Pleadings

Counsel,

Please let us know by tomorrow 2/28 if you are willing to agree to extend the deadline for Meta to amend its pleading (the current deadline is this Thursday, March 2). We propose to extend the deadline to two weeks after the Court issues a claim construction order.

Thank you,
Laura
